A refreshing shower in your own garden will always make you feel good. An outdoor shower keeps you fresh and helps keep the sauna, hot tub, and cooling areas clean. At the same time, you avoid stepping indoors unnecessarily with wet or muddy feet. The shower tower was designed for the Kirami FinVision® Misty module series alongside other outdoor showers. The outdoor tower model blends into any garden, regardless of style. It can be installed on any even surface, for example on a patio or roof terrace, or next to a hot tub, pool or sauna.

Before the winter frost, the shower must be emptied of water so that the cold temperatures do not break the water pipes or the shower itself.

The Kirami FinVision® -outdoor shower Misty is a shower tower made from heat-treated pine and stainless steel. The pre-assembled shower tower consists of a tower, the shower's metal plate base with a wooden grating and a shower. The shower is attached to the base through the mounting holes.

The high-quality stainless steel shower is pre-installed in place on the shower tower. The shower is equipped with pre-assembled connections, which can be connected to both hot and cold water pipes or, alternatively, to a garden hose. The water pipes are brought through the base into the tower, and the water is connected to the shower from the front behind a removable hatch. This allows all the pipes to be neatly concealed.

The floor grating of the shower is removable. Under the grating, there is a trough made of galvanised sheet metal, which leads the wash water to the drainage pipe. A 50 mm drainage outlet for wash water is included in the base.
